LIST OF PUBLICATIONS ON IRISH MOSS (CHONDROS CRISPUS)

Prepared in the Division of Fishery Industries

Bergstrom, Sune. The active group of heparin. Naturwissenschaften 23: 706. 1935. [Carrageen is active.]

Figgis, F. F. British Patent, 22,247, for a mucilage made with carrageen moss, starch, and a preservative. 1906.

Leon, Jean H. [The jellifying properties of carrageen moss, to be used as a substitute for agar, are improved by adding to the solution of the moss an alkali or alkaline earth salt.] French Patent No. 680,188, Aug. 12, 1929; German Patent No. 546,543, Dec. 15, 1929.

Mertle, J. S. [The properties of certain colloids, including agar and Irish moss, are summarized, with a discussion of their first historical application to photomechanical process work.] Graphic Arts Monthly 9(10): pp. 32, 34, 36. 1937.

