INTRODUCTION

Following the practice of the Bureau of Biological Survey, the Fish and Wildlife Service issues this, the forty-first edition of the directory of organizations and officials concerned with wildlife protection. It is designed to meet the needs of officials charged with the administration and enforcement of fish and game laws, and is also for the convenient use of persons desiring to communicate with officials and organizations concerning wildlife conditions in the several States and Territories, the Canadian Provinces and Territories, Newfoundland, Mexico, the West Indies, Central America, and South America. Including chiefly the organizations that are national or State-wide in character, the directory follows the general form of previous editions.¹

Details regarding the seasons for migratory game bird hunting and restrictions thereon may be obtained from the Fish and Wildlife Service, Chicago, Illinois.

¹ Previous editions, as follow, may be consulted at many public libraries: Those issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, 1900-14, in Circulars of the Bureau of Biological Survey; 1915-18, in Documents of the Bureau of Biological Survey; 1919-26, in Department of Agriculture Circulars; and 1927-38 (with the exception of 1932, when no edition was published), in Miscellaneous Publications of that Department; that issued by the Department of the Interior, for 1939, in the Wildlife Circular series of the Bureau of Biological Survey; and for 1940 in the same series, but by the Fish and Wildlife Service. No directory was published in 1941. ⁶⁷
